The Heritage Network

Board of Directors

5/19/25

The meeting was held at the Inchelium Cultural Research Center.

Attending were Chris Shaffer, Rose Kalamarides, Sue Richart and Joseph Barreca

Chris Shaffer will be scanning and cataloging documents at the ICRC and doing bookkeeping. There will be a fundraiser at the center on June 13th with food, speakers and crafts for auction.

Rose Kalamarides said that the kitchenette is installed at the Northport Museum. There is still a lot of fine carpentry, painting etc. to do before they open.

Sue Richart did a tutorial on Quick Books. There is no new research to report.

Joe Barreca reported that the Kettle Falls Historical Center will have a Grand Reopening on May 17th. The NW Fur Trade Historians will have an encampment near the museum at the same time and the Colville Confederated Tribes will have booths there with crafts and information on the Salish language.
